Dear Sir

As we had some correspondence a few years ago I am addressing this letter to you although it is on a subject that lies no doubt with the Dewan. My interest in the State & dating from the Conditions as friendship with Sir Sheshadri Iyer, leads me to say that if you would send me the Marriage Laws and the Political Pension article with a synchronistic article on the subject, it would not delay in sending on the letter if you wish it to

Dear Sir,

I am desired to thank you for your kind letter of the 29th March 1920 to the address of Mr. D.H.Narasinga Rau, late General Secretary to Government. Certain accounts of the Bhatkal Harbour Scheme have already appeared in the English Press and it is considered that there will be no particular advantage in further publicity at present. In the circumstances the Dewan is not in a position to avail himself of your kind offer.

Thanking you once again,

Yours faithfully,
(Sd) C.S.B.
